Kennedy Lists County Budget

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce recently reported that the cost to Lake County of the $92,537,000,000 spending budget submitted to Congress by President Kennedy on January 18 will amount to $197,847. The Chamber's estimates of the tax burden upon individual counties are based on measures of buying power and on sales tax collections. The Chamber's Tax Department further reported that Lake County's share of the proposed 1963 budget is calculated at $42,991.

At the time the budget was submitted to Congress, the statewide business organization reported that the cost to Illinois was $8,413,200,000. In terms of the state's official 1960 census population of 10,081,189, this amounts to $638.16 for each man, woman and child in the state and $2,544.64 for each family unit of four.

Because the proposed budget for fiscal 1963 calls for additional spending, the cost to Illinois is $615,200,000 more than the state's share of the proposed budget for fiscal 1962.

Although Hagan has been assigned to the Saigon command of the Viet-Nam area, he expects that most of his service will be extended in the bush country.

ATH Teachers Get Pay Boost; Enrollment to be Upped 100

A new salary scale listing higher minimum salaries for teachers was adopted by the Antioch High School Board last Wednesday night, February 21. Basically, the entire faculty of the Antioch Township High School will receive an approximate 9% salary increase for the 1962-1963 school year. This means that an overall figure of $21,900, based on the same number of teachers now on the payroll, will be added to the current payroll of $243,300. This plan encompasses the 39 teachers on the faculty with the exception of the school's three administrative members. The administrative salaries remain to be discussed and approved. The time of this approval is expected in March or April.

The Board Teacher's Salary Committee, headed by Milburn Cain, chairman, and including Boyd Osmond, Ruth Seyfarth, Kenneth Smouse, Lawrence Eggleston, and Melvin Stillson, were responsible for submitting a careful analysis report to the board on the increase. The committee, which acted only in an advisory capacity functioned with Robert Denman and A. L. Dittman acting ex-officio for the board. The board, after discussion, adopted the plan.

Concerned with the move, Supt. Dittman stated "I'm very proud of the fact that the board and teachers can work this way."

Teachers holding a bachelor's degree will receive a new base starting pay of $5,000. This rate is extended to those teachers just beginning and with no previous experience. In this capacity, beginning teachers will be possibly able to earn $7,200 within a 13-year period of teaching.

The base starting point for teachers with masters degrees is now $5,300 with the possibility of rising to $7,900 within a 15-year period of time.

Supt. Dittman also reported that the enrollment figures for the 1962-63 year would rocket another 100 students, putting next year's enrollment at 850 students. This added number of pupils is one of the main reasons for an increased amount of pay and staff at the school.

Along with its other business, the board adopted a complete value form builders risk insurance policy in order to cover the work of the school's addition now under construction.

Dittman stated that the complete value form has increased in use by firms because it eliminates the necessity of cutting through the contractor's work progress report and offers coverage on the entire building.

Several minor changes in the new building which numbered in the categories of hardware, science equipment and telephone conduits were also authorized by the board.

Antioch Township High School's participation in the Northwest Suburban Conference Workshop which is slated for Sept. 28, was given the official sanction of the board.

Olson Seeks Campaign Aid

James A. Olson
(Condi's by Lee)

James A. Olson, who is presently running for State Representative from the 31st District in the General Assembly against 11 other opponents, is seeking campaign aid from the well-organized political machines of other groups.

Olson, 35, a resident of Lake Villa, has been established as a successful businessman in Antioch, with the Olson Implement Company, for a number of years.

After his brother had been elected to a Wisconsin office and he had been exposed to the various political machines existent, Olson began to take an active interest in politics. On this subject, he had this to say, "I feel that the citizens must do more."

Regarding the political trends of today, Olson stated, "I don't like the Socialist trend going on in the municipal, state and federal governments." As far as he is concerned he feels that there is a definite need for a business oriented candidate in election for the 31st District.

Married, with three children, Olson has attended the University of Illinois and has been in business in Antioch since 1952. The problem facing him now, he feels, is the ever-growing need for campaigners who have little fear of working for the common goals of an unknown candidate. Up to date, Olson has, more or less, conducted his own campaign. Those interested in helping him in the race are asked to call 395-4242.

Last but not least, the Lake Villa Police Department and local merchants have promised their man power for the direction of traffic and setting up the booth.

Contributors Awarded Honors by Lions Club

The Antioch Lions Club held their regular semi-monthly dinner-meeting last Monday evening, Feb. 26, at 7:30 p.m. The dinner-meeting was held at Fats' Lounge located on Rte. 173.

Newly-elected President, Dr. Albert Bucar, called the meeting to order at 8:10. His opening salutations were followed by formal introductions of the guests present.

Secretary of the club Marv Heath read the minutes of the previous meeting before Treasurer Richard Radke reported the financial status of the club, giving a breakdown of the blind and checking accounts.

A discussion concerned with re-organizing the Chamber of Commerce was also on the club's agenda.

Suggestions for the possibility of developing a football bowl game were played at the end of the meeting.

The event would involve athletes at the junior college level.

Preston J. Reckers, Jr., then gave a report of the Ladies' Night Dinner-Dance held in Waukegan two weeks ago. Reckers stated that the affair was a complete success with 45 members and guests in attendance.

Athletic Banquet Committee member Howard Shepard gave a report on the forthcoming Athletic Banquet to honor the high school athletes on March 26. He stressed attention to the event, stating that the program for that evening would be shortened but felt that the endorsement of all residents through their attendance was necessary.

District Governor Noel Tuttle spoke briefly before the group on "Lionism," applying his interpretation of the brotherhood of Lions. He said that over "645,000 men, devoted to the preservation of a better world through their attendance of this service organization" was more than a feather in society's cap.

The highlighting keynote of Tuttle's speech dealt with stressing cooperation within all Lions Clubs.

Awards were then bestowed to representatives of civic groups in the Antioch area for their unsolicited aid and cooperation with the Community Service Corporation's swimming pool, operated through a division of the club. Those honored were Ray Toft, Herman Holbek and Edgar Simonson, who represented the Rescue Squad, the Village Board and the P.T.A. respectively.

Other organizations, the Moose, represented by Carl Schiesser, the Knights of Columbus, represented by Ray Wehrs and the Legion Post, represented by John L. Horan, were also honored.

Several members and non-members were also recipients of the special awards for their contributions.

The evening's program was highlighted with a showing of two heart films which were narrated by Dr. James Kopriva.

After a brief discussion of the films, dealing with the causes and results of heart trouble, the meeting stood adjourned at 9:20

1/4 Million Dollar Garage Built by Illinois Bell

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company opened up their new construction and maintenance garage in Lake Villa last week, February 19. The building, which was built at a cost of $250,000, is 169 x 88 ft. in proportion. The cost also involves the land area. The garage, within the entire frame of the modern-equipped building, is the same distance but is 62 ft. wide.

A thoroughly serviceable building unit, the garage area will provide the maximum space for 32 trucks. At the present time up to 28 vehicles will utilize the space.

Approximately 40 employees, who are made up of foremen, installers and repairmen, will work at intermittent periods of the day out of the building.

The entire layout consists of seven individual facility areas. The foremen's office, equipped for 5 foremen (3 maintenance and 2 construction) and the assembly room, along with a completely modernized wash-room with showers are provided with tile floors, acoustical ceilings and indirect lighting. The building is heated with gas with the exception of the large garage space. A supply room, divisioned away from another unused room and a repair room to service vehicles make up the rest of the building.

The repair garage area is heated and will be attended between the hours of 4 to 12 p.m. with a full-time mechanic. A boiler room that can be reached only from the outside of the building for safety purposes, concludes the building's makeup.

In addition to the building proper, a storage area has also been made available to accommodate poles, cables and sheds.

News Replaces Press & Mats

Due to the fact that the Antioch News is installing its new Cox-type press, a one day delay in the mailing and delivery of our newspaper should be anticipated.

This condition, will not continue, however, beyond a period of two weeks which is the time required before the press is completely installed.

In line with our constant improvements and attempts to better the services of the Antioch News towards its readers, we have installed a new series of type mats which presents a more readable newspaper.

This has been done in appreciation for the loyal support given us by our advertisers and reading public.

Rescue Squad Races for Life

Members of the Antioch Rescue Squad performed an edifying duty last Friday night, Feb. 23, by racing to the St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan with Ina Wolf, 26, who was about to give birth to a child.

Mrs. Wolf, whose husband was at work, called the Rescue Squad shortly before 8 p.m. and minutes later she was being attended to in the Waukegan Hospital.

Authorities informed the Rescue Squad members that the baby had been born about 3 minutes after their arrival with Mrs. Wolf.

Local Major In Far East

Army Major Dean Hagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hagan of Antioch, visited his parents last week before being assigned to the far-eastern Saigon Command. Major Hagan expects to be assigned directly in Viet-Nam in the capacity of a military adviser shortly.

Previously stationed at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, Major Hagan's wife and seven children reside nearby. He will continue onto Viet-Nam alone for an estimated period of 1 to 1 1/2 years.

Major Hagan's military career has been an extensive one. He first entered the Navy in 1943 and served 3 1/2 years with that branch, mostly in the Pacific command. Released from active service in 1946, Hagan entered the Army in 1947 and received his commission as an officer in 1948 after attending Officer Training School at Ft. Riley, Kansas. EDITORIAL

THE AMERICAN WAY

Those awarded meritorious certificates of appreciation by the Antioch Lions Club last Monday night for their services and cooperation extended in the operation of the swimming pool can feel justly proud. They have rendered a service not only to an organizational facility but to the welfare of their community.

The swimming pool, its building, planning and operation constituting a gigantic responsibility, has become a mainstay facility in the village of Antioch. Thousands enjoy the benefits extended by its summer operations. Aside from the leisure the pool affords, the instruction of non-swimmers and the teaching of safety habits has become instrumental in equipping the community's youth with a working knowledge of water sport participation not found in many other areas.

What made this possible can be largely attributed to the generosity and unsolicited services given by organizations and individuals from our civic-minded community.

Performing these services is not an easy task. What is actually involved here is time, effort, a demanding spirit of cooperation and even money—all helping to preserve a vital place for recreation.

When such awards are given, a brief recognition is usually in order and it seems as if the recipients of the honors are forgotten. But this is not the case. Just as they give of themselves continually and without the taint of personal gain, the doors of the serviceable deed are appreciated consistently. The appreciation is registered in the use of what has been given.

Monies, which, naturally enough, form the nucleus of the pool's support, are generously given. Equally important are the efforts of those merely maintaining the grounds, supervising the children and individually promoting the project. All of these things added up comprise a sort of community crusade for the better things in life.

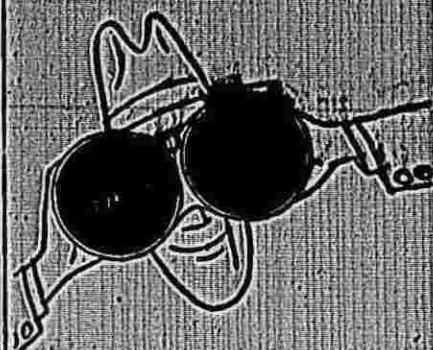

The most important thing is not how much a man can give toward such a project but in the manner of giving. Antioch can feel fortunate that it has citizens content with only the laurels of deep-felt accomplishment in return for their good deeds.

The attitude of these citizens helps in the long run to reflect the image of the village to other communities and outside observers who can point in this direction and say "look what they've done here."

The most significant effect of these contributions is that they act as a plague—spreading to others the spirit of unrequested support.

We cannot say enough in favor of the unselfish donors who contributed towards Antioch's state-recognized swimming facilities. Without such individuals the bulwark of our society would disappear and our way of life would become a shambles. This type of service has been proven to be the American way. So far, it is the best way in the world.

Men Are Not Gods?

By Jay Nash

At the culmination of this bitterly cold month of February, I paused to consider the former existences of some of America's (and the world's) great men. Our two greatest presidents were born during this month. As a boy I thought them to be ethereal figures of history. One could also rise to be another Grant, Jackson, Pershing, but a Lincoln or Washington, never! That is what I thought then. Recently reading some of the penned holocausts composed in recognition of these two giants' birthdays, I now wonder how the youth of America can look up to them as much as I did.

Norman Ross, for example, writing in The Daily News states that Washington was "full of foibles, idiosyncrasies and human characteristics as any one." The statement in itself means little when used to evaluate the man. It does take on, however, the tone of one, like many, who is consistently attempting to topple the reputation, the lore, the expedient myths of great men.

Not giving the great men—the ones whose work lasts beyond generations and civilizations—their due is a heinous crime against history. There is an intellectual envy involved in admiring heroes; today, the writers and spokesmen foster it; the adults tolerate it without so much as a protesting whimper and the youth of the country, mimic, in an ape-like neanderthal fashion, the sneaking jeers of lesser men who follow as shabby talismen in the footsteps of our heroes. This country, more than any other today, needs its heroes. I am not now speaking of the transitory reputations established so easily through the medias of screen and television, but simply honest men who have no particular asset other than the genius to lead.

The iconoclastic powers of influence that be in this country refuse to support the legends of the past and those who gave them birth. The reason behind this goes something like a sales pitch from a Fuller Brush man, fanatically trying to sell the happy medium machine instead of a whiskbroom: Now look. You'll like this machine. Just turn it on and lose your inferiority complex. What does it do? Why, it dispenses with heroes. You know the ones—Davy Crockett, John C. Fremont, Robert E. Lee. Well, read the list. They're all there. Just turn on this machine in the house and in a jiffy, you're just as good as them. What does it do? Why, it tells you things. Listen. I'll turn it on for a moment—"Buffalo Bill Cody was actually a poor shot—couldn't hit the broad side of a barn. James Bowie was a Mississippi cut-throat who was at the Alamo by mistake. Ulysses Grant was an excessive alcoholic. Woodrow Wilson was a demagogue. Herbert Hoover caused the Depression. Lincoln told dirty stories. Washington swore." See how easy it works? What do you mean, you can't use it? You want your kids to grow up stupid?

The great equalizing process goes on. Stephen Decatur, that great and spirited patriot, once said, "My country, right or wrong." A lesser man replied, "That's like saying, my Mother, drunk or sober."

The lesser men have the advantage. They are alive and the men they criticize are dead.

Someone is always harping about our country not having a past—a tradition, say, in the plane of European culture. No wonder. It is difficult to promote the respect for great men when subtle sarcasm displaces the obvious national pride.

In a time when sincere emotion is frowned upon as personal weakness, this attitude is not surprising. What is surprising is that even in our day and age, a few heroes, such as John Glenn, manage to slip through the limiting labels applied to him by other men and emerge a national hero.

Although he will be replaced by others in his field (as he now has replaced the popularity of Allan Shepard) his accomplishment was genuine. Schoolchildren of the future

Courthouse Notebook—

BY LOU BOKIN

This is the time in political campaigns when it is well to have a good supply of salt on hand so you can sprinkle a little on the rumors which spring up concerning the candidates and their campaigns.

A hardy survivor of most political campaigns which has made its appearance in the current race for the Republican nomination for Congress is the report that one of the candidates is trying to "buy" the election.

Inevitably one candidate in a race is singled out as the "big money" candidate and the rumors fly that he is paying precinct committeemen up to $100 each for their support, that he has bought support from this group or that group, and naturally, that the heavy contributors to the party coffers have singled him out as their candidate.

Another perennial rumor that appears in most campaigns is the report that this "political power" or that one is dumping his candidate in favor of a new choice and this is usually accompanied by the "payoff" rumor.

Not quite so overworked is the rumor that crops up in multiple candidate races such as the Congressional contest which has one candidate throwing in the towel and coming out in support of one of the front runners.

This is the stage of the campaign when experience in campaigning pays off since it is easy to panic if the rumors seem to hurt your chances.

The veteran campaigner is better able to assess the truth of the reports and is better able to take steps to counteract the reports or to take advantage of them if they seem to be in his favor.

The political newcomer finds himself on an emotional roller coaster as the rumors fly and swirl about him, hitting peaks of enthusiasm and valleys of despair as he tries to rationalize and assess the importance and truth of the stories making the political rounds.

It is amazing the effect seemingly unrelated incidents can have on the outcome of an election or the reception a candidate receives in a particular locale at a particular time in a campaign.

State Rep. Robert Coulson, for instance, views with mixed feelings the recent success of the Waukegan High School basketball team because he knows from past experience that a tournament victory over the wrong team at the wrong time will be reflected in a cold reception for him when he visits the community, ousted from the tournament by the Waukegan Bulldogs.

State Sen. Robert McClory is well aware that legitimate participation in a legal proceeding can come back to haunt him in a campaign.

Other candidates will also learn to their dismay that events unrelated to politics and especially to their own candidacies will be revealed in all their innocent horror.

There is a report stemming from last week's closed meeting of Waukegan Township GOP committeemen that County Chairman Robert Milton was given a "vote of confidence."

As a former sportswriter it is easy to regard such a vote as a danger signal for Milton since all baseball managers are fired after such a vote.

Some of the committeemen in the county were a little unhappy with the Central Committee's endorsement of William Scott, of Evanston, for State Treasurer, an endorsement engineered by Milton at a recent meeting of the committee.

They point to the lack of a quorum and failure of the chairman to call the roll at the meeting.

Scott has the backing of the County Chairman's Association which is at odds with the State Central Committee and the Cook County GOP organization.

This same organization is behind the reported maneuvering of Elmer Hoffman, DuPage County, for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in 1964.

Libertyville Estates residents who are viewing the rising waters of the Des Plaines River with fear and trepidation are deriving little solace from the stacks of reports, recommendations and surveys which have been will probably be told that he was chained to his seat. History is a strange witness from which to learn. It becomes distorted almost immediately after it occurs. Perhaps that is why its interpreters are usually wrong.

"Heroes are made not born." After viewing with pride the many appearances of Col. John Glenn this past week, I'm more inclined to think that heroes are formed by great parents.

Certainly many things have contributed to the heroic actions of this outstanding man. Basic family surroundings were apparently responsible for his respect and understanding of team work.

"Self-discipline became a part of his life, with the careful guidance of his parents. Courage follows necessarily in the life of a man like this, for you see his consideration of his fellow man gave him the ability to do what had to be done. Eagerness to learn built a foundation for hours of long hard work, to reach a goal sometimes not even in sight. Humility and faith had to be a part of his every day life, for a hero is not made overnight.

A combination of these qualities you will find in every great man. And if you look close, you'll see that every boy is a potential hero, when you as parents give him a chance, with correct guidance, faith and understanding.

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new untitled Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? (The wonder would be if you settled for anything less—once you get your hands on one at your Chevrolet dealer's!)

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

To get around tariff barriers, American industrialists expand operations by establishing plants in foreign countries. Each time this happens the economy of the United States is weakened.

Farmers in this country cannot follow this pattern. They are tied to the soil. Exports to foreign markets make up a large part of our agricultural income. Efficiency of farmers in the United States has not only kept agriculture production pace of the population explosion, but has surpassed it. The European farmer is becoming more efficient patterning his operation after his American counterpart.

This is the reason for President Kennedy's proposal to gradually lower tariff barriers. The American farmer will be assured of an expanded demand for his produce because he can compete with the market of the rapidly growing European Economic Community.

Farmers in Illinois have a vital stake in the outcome of congressional action on this proposal. U. S. agriculture must be in the position to compete with the Common Market, or else our storage bins will bulge beyond capacity and threaten our support program.

While industrial manufacturers stand to gain immeasurably from lower tariffs, no segment of our economy has more at stake than agriculture. In Illinois, 10 per cent of the farm workers can attribute their jobs to export demand, both in processed and unprocessed form.

The economic rate of growth of the Common Market is now twice as great as that of the United States. If our own economy is to prosper, we must take action to expand our exports. U. S. genius for efficient productive methods and our dependence upon world trade have a common denominator—increased demand for U. S. produced goods. An opportunity to increase that demand is represented by President Kennedy's export expansion program.

In 1960 the United States exported more than $17 billion worth of products from American factories and farms, compared to $9 billion in 1950. By 1970 it is estimated that our exports will increase more than 40 per cent and will total $24 billion.

Defense expenditures for our own military forces averaged about $40 billion a year over the last five years. During the next five it is believed likely that the figure will be about $50 billion a year, and, if military assistance and atomic energy costs are added in, will reach or approach $55 billion.

Since Anita was formerly a member of the "Wood-Chicks", all the girls were invited and most of them were able to attend. If you remember, that Sunday we had a big snow storm. A few women from Chicago who braved the bad weather were Mrs. Irene Gawronski, Mrs. John Tomalik and Priscilla Marino. Neighbor Maude Blomquist also attended.

Tony Romano was manager of the Little League Cubs the past two years, so is quite well known among the youngsters. No need to say he will be missed this year.

The Romano's have two children, Gary and Rose Mary. The addition to the family is due in March.

In a four o'clock afternoon ceremony Saturday, Feb. 24, at St. James Episcopal Church, Dundee, Miss Sara Louise Barnhart and Mr. John B. Fields were united in matrimony in a double ring service performed by the Rev. Chester Boynton.

The parents of the bride are the Harry Barnharts of Algonquin, and the groom's mother is Mrs. J. B. Fields of Antioch.

The bride chose for her wedding a full length gown of broad satin, fashioned with a scooped neckline, vee-shaped bodice and long, tapered sleeves. Her elbow length veil was caught to a circled puff of satin, and she carried a sheath of red roses.

Mrs. William Custer served the bride as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were her sister, Kate Barnhart, and cousin, Susan Barnhart. Their street length gowns were of American Beauty brocade satin, with bows to match for headpieces. They carried sheaths of white roses.

Serving his brother as best man was James Fields, and the ushers were Howard Shepard and William Seemann.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the bride's residence immediately following the ceremony.

A HISTORY OF YOUR TITLE

Have you ever wondered what a lawyer or realtor means when he speaks of an "abstract of title"? Stated most generally, an abstract of title is a summary of all the transactions, such as sales or mortgages, which have taken place concerning a particular piece of land since it has been privately owned.

For example, take lot 10 in Block 3 of Paddock's New Home subdivision, a hypothetical parcel of land in Wayne County, The U.S. Government originally owned this lot, and in 1820 the government conveyed it and many adjoining parcels to Christopher Jones.

The essential facts in this conveyance will be shown as the first entry in the abstract for lot 10. Likewise, each subsequent transaction affecting the title to lot 10 is set out, chronologically, right down to things that happened last month or even last week.

What's in an Abstract?

What sort of transactions are mentioned in abstracts of title? Many of the entries in the abstract for lot 10 describe deeds conveying lot 10 or any part of it, together with a reference to the book and page in the County Recorder's office where a copy of the actual deed can be found.

The abstract will also contain a note of the death of any owner of lot 10 and a reference to the proceedings in the deceased's estate. The abstract concisely explains any provision of the deceased's will involving lot 10, or if there is no will, the names of known heirs are listed.

Similarly, the abstract shows mortgage or tax foreclosure proceedings relating to the property, and the bankruptcy of an owner. These are only a few examples of common abstract entries which should make an unbroken chain of conveyances from the United States to the present owner, but sometimes do not.

Who Compiles Abstracts?

As you can see, almost all the information in the abstract is obtained from local records. The law requires that deeds and mortgages be filed for record in the County Recorder's Office and all estate, foreclosure and bankruptcy proceedings are similarly set out in the county records. But when you want to buy lot 10 and the seller wants to show you he can give you good title, instead of spending several days floundering through old county records he goes to the local abstractor who continues the old abstract or prepares a complete one from the beginning if the seller does not have one. For a fee based on the number of items involved the abstractor will review the county records and furnish the seller with an up-to-date "book" or abstract showing the history of the title to the property involved.

Evaluation of Abstracts

But buyers must realize that merely because the seller has a current abstract which shows transfer to him, this is far from adequate proof of merchantable title. The important and technical task of evaluating abstract entries must be done by competent legal counsel, who is able to decide whether the seller's "title" is good and free from defects.

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law. (The names used in this series are fictitious.) County Boards Approve Roads

A county board has the right to designate the roads and the type of road to be built within the county road system. Attorney General William G. Clark has advised State's Attorney Louis A. McLaughlin of Fayette County.

If county roads are to be built by contract, the county board lets the contract, Clark's opinion said, and if they are to be built by county labor, the county board hires the labor.

In construction or maintenance of township roads with motor fuel tax funds, Clark's opinion said, the county board would have to approve the engineer which the county Superintendent of Highways desires to employ. Where the statute provides that the county Superintendent of Highways shall perform certain duties, the opinion said, the county board cannot hire some private engineer to do the work. The county board cannot hire a private engineer to perform the statutory duties of the County Superintendent of Highways.

Resident Attends Technical Course

William Holm, of Pedersen Bros., Massey-Ferguson dealer in Antioch, is attending a one-week advance technical course at the F-F Service Training Center in Detroit, Mich. Established to develop better customer service at the dealer level, the center offers M-F dealer personnel a choice of fourteen courses, ranging from shop management to tractor hydraulics.

The one to four week courses, ensure dealers are up to date on the latest industry service techniques, as well as the maintenance and operation of the company's expanding lines of agricultural and industrial equipment. The world's largest producer of tractors and combines, M-F markets its products in 161 countries.

"From the Rooseveltian days of spending ourselves into prosperity and preoccupation with man's inhumanity to man, we have produced some mighty fine slogans to justify the ever-increasing concentration of wealth, influence and power in a paternalistic government. . . Big government, soft living, lowering productivity, ever-rising taxes taking away incentive, fiddling in the bath . . . these presaged the fall of the Roman Empire. Our feet are firmly set in the same path. Can we follow it without disaster?"—Buffalo, S. D., Times-Herald.

Dirksen Speaks At Rep. Preview

U. S. Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen, (R-Ill.), has tentatively accepted an invitation to speak in Deerfield at the "Republican Voters Preview," on Sunday, March 4, at 2 p.m. at the Woodland Park School. In addition to hearing the Senate Minority Leader, voters will have a chance to appraise all eight candidates seeking the Republican nomination for the newly designated 12th Congressional District.

One of these, James M. Wetzel of Deerfield, is expected to draw enthusiastic supporters since this event offers local residents their first opportunity to hear Wetzel on the same program with the other seven aspirants.

Also scheduled to appear are the twelve candidates running for the GOP nomination for two Republican seats in the General Assembly. They include Rep. William J. Murphy of Antioch, John H. Conolly of Gurnee, Ralph W. Swank of Waukegan, Francis J. Barry of Libertyville, John J. Noel of Mundelein, Hans R. Hanson, Round Lake Park, Lauren Robert Januz, Lake Forest, Ralph C. Shields, Mundelein, E. Keitney Harlan, Lake Bluff, Harry O. Kilbane, Waukegan, and James A. Olson of Lake Villa.

Three aspirants bidding for the party's nomination for State Treasurer will be on this program. They are Maurice Coburn of Chicago, Walter Roun of Oak Park, and William Scott of Evanston. In all, more than forty candidates are speaking at the event.

This meeting is being co-sponsored by the Combined Deerfield Republican Organizations which include the West Deerfield Township Women's Republican Club, the Deerfield Young Republican Club, and the West Deerfield Township Republican Committee. Following the main portion of the program, voters will have a chance to chat informally with the candidates over light refreshments. Howard E. Green, Jr., Deerfield precinct committeeman, is chairing the event. It is open to the public at no admission charge.

Channel Lake News

By Mrs. PAUL KOPPEL

The "A" squad of the Channel Lake School basketball team defeated Avon's team by a score of 58-45 in the game at Avon on Feb. 22. Coach Scott said this was the best team effort of the boys this year. Miles Yanca, Bill Berger, Bill Looper and Mike Kelly played outstanding games for Channel Lake.

The "B" squad was defeated by Avon by a score of 34-22. The next game will be at Channel Lake on March 1 at 6:30 p.m., when Channel Lake will meet Big Hollow.

Pupils of the eighth grade of the school are sponsoring various activities in an effort to raise money to finance a class trip. The trip will be held the last week of school and will include a show and dinner in Chicago.

The women's gym group, which customarily meets on Thursday night, will not meet this week because of the basketball game with Big Hollow.

The Channel Lake basketball team has been invited to play Oakland in a preliminary game at the High School on March 13 when members of the faculty of the High School will play against the High School team.

The P.T.A. is purchasing a curtain for the stage in the new gym at the school. They plan to present a play at the school on April 14.

School board election will be held Saturday, April 14. Dr. Stanley Anderson, Elmer Eberman and Beverly Roberts will be running for re-election with Richard Waters a new candidate for the board.

The regular monthly meetings of the Board of Education of the Channel Lake School will hereafter be held on the first Tuesday of the month. In the past they have been held on the third Tuesday.

Frank Saubert, Woodcrest Subdivision, was taken to the hospital by the Antioch Rescue squad on Saturday night after suffering a heart attack at his home. The Sauberts recently returned from a vacation in Florida.

Both the ladies' and men's gym groups are now asking participants to pay 25c each, to help defray cost of lights, etc. Anyone wishing to attend is welcome—membership is not confined to the school district. The ladies meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays and the men at 7:30 p.m. on Friday.

Sequoits Win Final Game from Blue Devils

Game Clinched In Last Second

By Jay Nash

Larry Leon's Fighting Sequoits, battling down to their last conference wire, raced to almost a dead-heat win over a desperate Warren squad last Friday night. The hotly pursued score of 67 to 66 was culminated by the Sequoits in the closing seconds of the game.

The Antioch clinching of the second place tie in the Northwest Suburban Conference was performed before a packed Parents' Night crowd.

The Warren Blue Devils trailed the Sequoits in the first quarter's play 19-14 but by the close of the half, the Warren squad had whittled the Sequoit lead down to a 33-33 tie. The deadlock came about after John McClure's last-second bucket.

The leading buildup for Antioch was gained in the third quarter, 84-46. Fighting back again in the closing moments of the remaining quarter, the Warren team, led by a narrowly made free throw by Gib Walkington, closed the gap to a 62-62 tie.

A complete field goal by Ozga topped by a free throw toss made by Pleviak again put the Sequoits back on top with a 65-62 edge. Still game, the Blue Devils came up to close the tally to 65-66 on Bruce Galgan's layup. With 28 seconds left Bill Grom completed a jump-shot.

After both teams had lost a scoring opportunity, Ozga fouled Galgan who missed his charity toss. The tip-in by Warren cager Bill Muehe was not counted because it was a second too late.

Ozga took scoring honors with a total of 25 points. Pleviak, another senior ending his high-school basketball career, chalked up 11 points and John Hallwas went for 14.

On the Warren side of the ledger, Walkington, Muehe and Krueger tallied 18, 17 and 13 points respectively.

In rounding out the season, Coach Larry Leon started four seniors at the offset of the game.

Bulldogs Lose To Lake Forest

A sorely whipped Wauconda team went down to bitter defeat last Saturday night when a sharp-shooting Lake Forest team hit them for an 82-59 win.

The victory gave the Scouts a 9-5 conference record which finished them for fourth place within the ranks of the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Close in-playing resulted in the first quarter but saw the Scouts edge out in front 20-17. By the halftime pause, the Lake Forest squad was way out in front 43-25. The point spurt of the second period was sparked by Scout Cager Bill Seaborg.

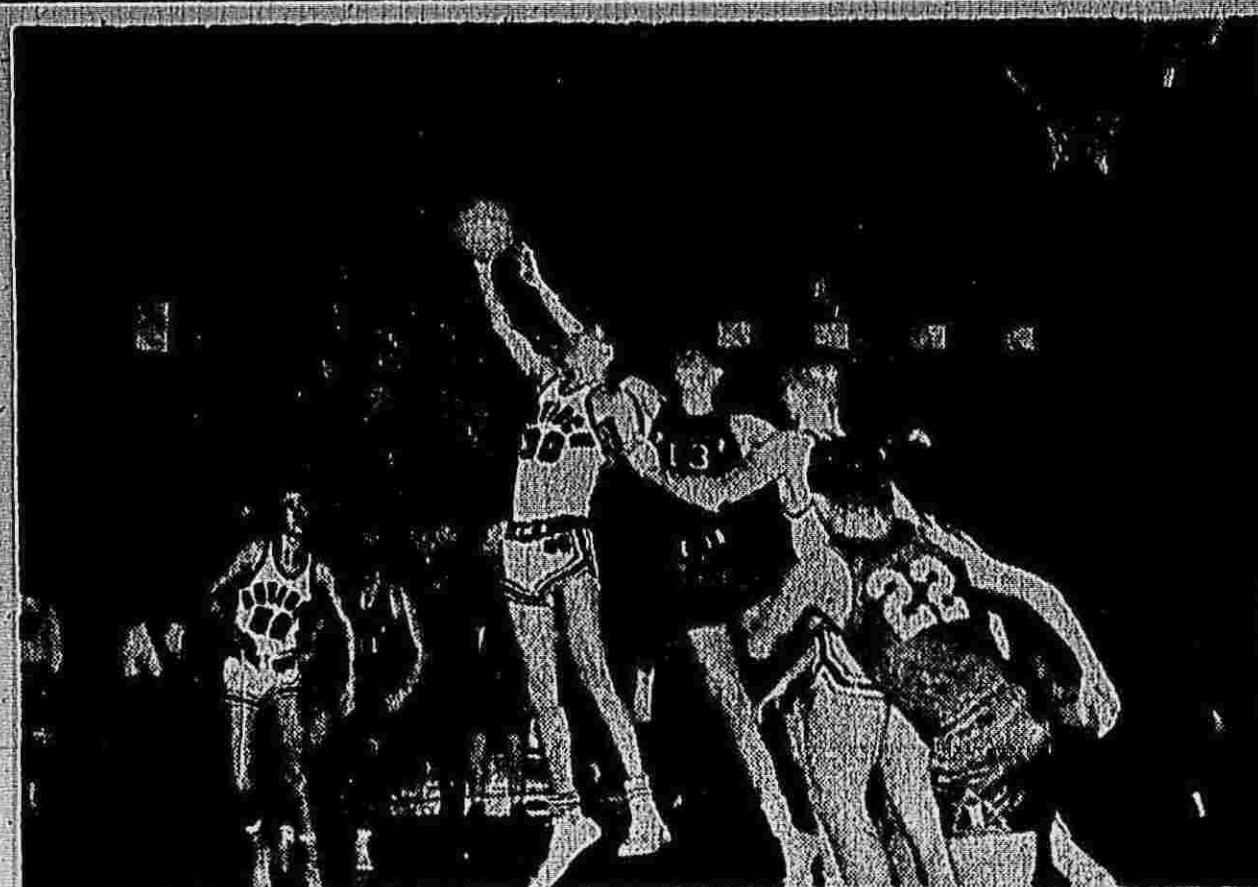

It was strictly no contest going into the third and final stanzas of the game.

A Lake Forest 491 shooting average proved to be too much to contend with for the Bulldogs who went under with a 35 per cent marksmanship figure. Out of the 61 shots attempted by the Scouts, 30 were completed.

Paced by Seaborg's 17 points, Ekdahl, Spitzer, Weshinsky and Doug Halladay all hit for scores in the double-figures.

Eiters, Freund, and Hughes were high men on the Grant scoring list with 13, 12 and 11 points.

The scrappy sophomore team for Grant whipped the until-then unbeaten Lake Forest squad, 48-41.

Round Lakers are Champs After Grant Loss, 54 - 49

The Round Lake Panthers came near to missing it, but finally clinched their first undisputed Northwest Suburban Conference title last Friday night by overwhelming the Grant Bulldogs, 55-49. The win gave the Panthers an 11-3 record while copping the championship.

Wayne Patterson and Greg Olson for Grant almost upset Round Lake's appecart when they popped in several to give the Bulldogs a surprising 11-3 lead early in the first quarter. The Panthers came back rapidly and led by the end of the quarter 13-12.

At the game's halftime, the Panthers were out in front, 29-23. Round Lake's second quarter starred Mike Sarocco who scored four baskets.

A Bulldog advance in the third quarter almost closed the gap but with the score standing 30-27, Clyde Diana for the Panthers toughened his defense and pulled off some excellent defensive rebounds. Diana's play enabled the Panthers to pull further ahead by the end of the third quarter 42-35.

The first three minutes of the final stanza saw Round Lake increase their margin 54-43, but the Bulldogs, fighting down to a finish, surged back with a full-court press which gained them a 6-2 edge in the closing minutes of the game.

Ron Taylor, a Grant sophomore reserve center, surprised the embattled Panther squad by scoring three baskets, two of which were on steals.

Using their biggest asset this year, the Round Lake squad made up a good deal of its winning tally from the free throw line, making a 13-5 edge to offset a 22-21 field goal deficit.

For the champs, Sarocco, Diana and Sherman made 19, 12 and 11 points respectively.

Bulldog honors went to Olson and Patterson who both tallied 12 points.

The frosh-soph contest was taken by Grant, 45-38.

Warren's Blue Devils also beat Grant 66-61 last Saturday night.

Ela is Downed By Wauconda

Before members of their first basketball squad of 1927-28, the Wauconda Bulldogs beat the Ela-Vernon Bears last Friday night 70-60. The win gave the Bulldogs a sixth-place standing with 3 wins and 10 losses.

In the first quarter of play, Wauconda went out in front 22-15 and maintained their lead margin throughout the game. At halftime the score read 44-29 and at the end of the third quarter the Bears were behind 58-45.

A good deal of the Wauconda win could be attributed to their successful attempts at free throws, making 24 out of 32. The Bears finished with a 24-23 margin.

Pepper Eiters, Mike Freund and Dan Sutherland were instrumental in gaining rebounds for the Bulldogs.

Both Don Miller and Gordie Hughes of the Wauconda squad racked up 23 points. Eiters made 17. For the losers, Ken Grzeskowiak tallied 20 points to end out his share of the season. The frosh-soph Wau-

Coach Leon is Proud Of 62' Sequoit Teams

For a team that wasn't figured to go anywhere, the fighting Sequoits haven't done too badly this year. Sporting a 12 and-8 record they will complete their season's schedule against State ranked North Chicago Friday.

Rated 8th in the State poll of prep basketball teams the North Chicago proves to be a tough one to finish with for the Sequoits.

Coach Larry Leon said today, "My feeling at the start of the season was if we could finish with a .500 average we could have considered this a good year. We did better than that. It was due to the fact that the boys worked together as a unit, the theory of all for one and one for all."

The Sequoits will be pointing towards the IHSAA regional basketball tourney which starts March 5th. This regional proves to be one of the best in recent years, said Leon, and any one of 8 teams, Antioch included, could take it.

Antioch will face off against Barrington in their first game Tuesday, March 6, at 7 p.m. Although Palatine is rated as the tournament favorite, Barrington, Antioch, Libertyville, the winner of the district tourney at Grayslake or Warren, all have a solid chance for first place honors.

Tournament Schedule: March 5, starting at 7 p.m., Palatine vs. Elmhurst followed by Warren vs. Mundelein at 10 p.m.

Grayslake in 2nd Place, Now Tie With Antioch

The Grayslake Rams, sparked by the efforts of 6-6 Craig Alderton, won a decisive and final victory over a hard-pressed Lake Forest team last Friday night at Grayslake, 77-69.

The Scouts were missing their big rebound assets, Spitzer and Seaborg, and the way was paved for the Rams' backboard men to take honors in that bracket.

The Scouts, leading at halftime, 32-27, lost out the final edge of the tally when Alderton scored 18 points in the last two periods of play.

At the end of the third quarter the Rams had accumulated a 49-42 lead. This lead was strengthened after the Rams took complete control of the ball after the first six minutes of the final quarter had elapsed.

Denny Williams, Bob Parker and Don Hawkins also aided Alderton by scoring in the two-figure column.

Matching Alderton's score was Steve Ekdahl of Lake Forest with 24 points.

The Lake Forest frosh-soph squad, unlike their senior counterparts, took honors by whipping the Grayslake team, 48-37.

Slama Bowls 754 Series In Singles Tournament

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell

The Men's Singles tournament at the Antioch Bowl opened with a crash Sunday—the crash of falling pins as the experts hit for astronomical scores.

Bud Schabily, well-known Chicago bowler, posted the first over-700 series with a 731. He was pushed out of first place when Ray Perrine of Waukegan and Frank Huppen, a Chicago left-hander, both bowling on the same squad, posted scores of 727 and 731, respectively. Al Kaplan was next with a 735 series, soon downed by Don Slama's 754. Slama is a member of Wally Welas's team.

There was an additional thrill for the audience when Lee Adams of Arlington Heights threw ten straight strikes, but got nine pins on the first ball in the eleventh frame and finished with a 288 game.

The tournament will run through March 11, with many more well-known bowlers slated to compete.

On Saturday, March 3, Paul Krumske will bowl at 3 p.m.; winner of the tournament two years ago, Mr. Wallenberg will try to repeat at 5 p.m. Sunday, March 4. Otto Niehus with the Old Fitzgerald team will bowl; Paul Zims, former Wisconsin All-Events Champion and owner of Twin Lakes Bowl; Lee Borkis, Al Kaplan; and the Hamm's Beer team, including Schabily and Wagner, will try to better the scores they turned in this first weekend.
